Corporate Overview

PCI Productions, a Tribally Owned, 8(a) certified Small Disadvantaged Business, leverages 30 years of award-winning leadership in communications, media production, and professional services to deliver exceptional results for government and commercial clients.

Recognized as one of the nation's premier providers of communications and multimedia production, PCI Productions has earned dozens of creative awards and accolades, including being named NASA Prime Contractor of the Year in 2024. Together with our sister companies, PCI Native Solutions and Media Fusion, PCI Productions employs over 320 professionals and boasts a strong record of supporting a wide range of U.S. federal government and commercial organizations.

With DCAA-compliant systems, mature business processes, and a commitment to high-quality service, PCI Productions is an ideal small business prime contractor and strategic partner, helping clients evaluate, execute, and monitor the success of their operations and communications initiatives. Our expertise includes training and product visualization, augmented reality and virtual reality (AR/VR), digital campaign planning, public affairs and strategic communications, graphic design, photography and videography, event support, and professional and administrative services.
